Cedar Ridge is a coeducational therapeutic school that specializes in working with youth who have issues such as anxiety, depression, low self-esteem, childhood trauma, school problems, relationship problems, mild to moderate substance abuse, ADD/ADHD, and anger management problems.

Our mission is to guide youth in a process of positive behavioral change by helping them acquire the skills and self-knowledge they need to form healthy relationships with others and utilize their individual inner strengths to become mature, well-balanced, productive persons. Cedar Ridge Academy is dedicated to the concept of using the least restrictive means necessary to induce change, helping students to utilize their internal resources to grow and mature given the right tools and environment.

Our program functions on a system of trust levels which measure and promote the students' trust in themselves, the trust of their peers, and the trust of the program staff. Licensed therapists implement individual service plans to help students address the underlying fears that precipitate their negative behaviors. Regular karate training develops character and physical well-being, using a non-violent approach to becoming physically, emotionally, and spiritually congruent. Our accredited high school provides academics geared to college preparation. A certified guidance counselor helps students with ACT and PSAT test preparation and college applications.
