Oxford Council to hear charter amendments

OXFORD — City Council will receive notice of proposed amendments to the City Charter covering equal rights in propoerty restrictions, utility users liable for their own use only and preservation of established set-back lines in the old Oxford area at its meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Circulation of a petition seeking the amendments is planned by the signers including James L. Warren, Virgil E. Cummings, Charles D. Churchwell, Arthur F. Miller and James Litton.

The equal rights in property restrictions amendment would forbid granting special privileges to one property owner in a district that are not granted to others in the same district.

The second amendment would make tenants and property owners liable for their own utility use only and not those of prior tenants or owners unless an agreement is made between parties to the contrary.

Preservation of established set-back lines in the old part of Oxford would not require set-backs greater than 16½ feet.

A report from the city manager will show that John Lockland, department of transportation safety engineer, recommends the use of "no passing zone" singns and markers indicating an intersection ahead along U.S. 27 approaching the intersection of McKee Avenue and U.S. 27.

The city manager will also recommend that Oxford City Council authorize $560 for financial assistance to the Butler County Youth Service Bureau.

Williard P. Keebler, chairman of the Planning Commission, will request authorization for funds to match HUD 701 funds to continue updating the city plan.

Tabulation of bids for a 1973 police cruiser will be presented and council will award or reject the bids by resolution. A verbal report is expected on an alternate plan for the extension of Sycamore Street west to College Corner Pike.

Council is expected to adopt a resolution accepting the preliminary plat of the Chestnut Village Subdivision and the first reading of an ordinance approving the final plat of the Halter Subdivision of O.L 303 is scheduled.

Approval will be sought for Richard Fink, administrative assistant and Fire Chief Kent Shoemaker to attend a public hearing Jan. 15 on Ohio's first State Fire Code.

New Year begins on colder note

Partly cloudy skies and much colder weather will greet the Golden Triangle on the first afternoon of 1973, according to the National Weather Service.

Forecasts for Monday afternoon call for cloudy skies and colder temperatures during the day. Highs should reach about 38 before dropping during the evening.

Lows by early Tuesday will drop to about 18.

Outlook for Tuesday calls for clearing skies and continued cold temperatures. Highs should reach near 25.

High Sunday afternoon was 58, according to George Johnson, official weather observer for the Journal-News. Low early New Year's Day was a cold 27.

The area ended 1972 on a wet note as December gathered 4.08 inches of precipitation.

Sunset tonight will be at 5:25 p.m. and sunrise early Tuesday will occur at 7:28 a.m.

Injury serious after crash

COLERAIN TOWNSHIP—Claude Tolson 48, 10411 East Maimi River Road, is in serious condition in the Intensive Care Unit at Providence Hospital as the results of a head on auto collision Saturday at 11:40 p.m.

The Hamilton County Sheriff's Office reported that Tolson's car was proceeding west on Dry Ridge Road approximately one fourth mile west of Brehm Road when it went left of center on a curve and struck a car driven by Robert Sunderhaus 25, 6098 Dry Ridge Road. Sunderhaus was not injured. Tolson was taken to the hospital by the Dunlap Life Squad and later cited for driving left of center.

Bandit escapes

A lone bandit escaped with about $200 in cash in a holdup at the Clark Service Station, 1940 Fairgrove Ave. about 11 p.m. Sunday, Hamilton police reported.

Harry Himmelhaver, station attendant, told police he was in the rear office counting money when a man wearing a stocking mask walked in and ordered him at gunpoint to "give him the money."

The attendant said the man reached into an open cabinet and took all of the small bills but no change.

Arrest follows robbery

State police today apprehended a Cleveland man in connection with an armed robbery at King-Kwick carryout, 2060 Rte. 4, only minutes earlier.

Arrested at 8:18 a.m., Rte. 4 and LeSourdsville Road, where State Highway Patrolmen stopped his car was a man identified as James Taylor, 24, Cleveland. Police said the car Taylor was driving was reportedly stolen from the Cleveland area. Monday and a gun were reportedly found in the car by police.

Taylor was turned over to Hamilton Police Department where he was to be charged with armed robbery, according to police. State police officials said Taylor would be charged with car theft by that department.

Officers said the holdup occured about 8:12 a.m. State police said Taylor was spotted driving past Highway Patrol Post Nine after the robbery had been reported and broadcast over police radio.

No other details were available early today.

Woman raped

A 22-year-old Hamilton woman told Hamilton police she was assaulted and raped early Sunday at a Chestnut St. address.

She was taken to Mercy Hospital by a brother where she was treated for a head laceration, brusied mouth and chest injury.

The woman identified her assailant to police. She said he forcibly entered her home and demanded to talk to her. When he refused to leave, a girlfriend of the woman left to call the police.

While her friend was gone, the woman said an argument ensued and he hit her with a hammer and beat her. She said he then forced her to accompany him to the address scantily dressed.

She told police he tied her hands behind her back with a piece of clothesline and gagged her.

She's No. 1

1973 WAS ONLY an hour and forty-five minutes old when little Christy Dawn Kauffman made her appearance at Fort Hamilton Hospital. Christy daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Jerry L. Kauffman, 2760 Hamilton-Cleves Road, weighed in ounce. The little girl is the first child of Mr. and Mrs. Kauffman. The mother is the former Betty Jo Hiekerson. Dr. Vincent Davin was the attending physician. The father is employed by Larkin Motors. Journal-News photo by John Janco.

Small-group help best hope for youth judge tells group

OXFORD — Small-group guidance is the best hope for correcting juvenile delinquency, Judge David Black of Butler County Domestic Relations Court told the Kiwanis Club of Oxford.

Judge Black, a member of the Oxford Club, discussed juvenile court programs one aspect of the broad area under his jurisdiction. He said another phase of the county's court system will be discussed January 16 when Judge Fred B. Cramer talks to the club about probation procedures.

"Institutionalization of juvenile offenders on a large scale is just not working," Judge Black asserted. "It is expensive — it's been said it costs as much to confine a juvenile delinquent in some cases as it would cost to send him to Harvard. The rate of recidivism is alarming, and he comes out wiser in the ways of crime.

"We do believe there is hope in some of the programs we are now carrying out in Butler county which amount to guidance and rehabilitation under supervision in small-group, family-like situations."

He pointed out that Bunker Hill Haven, as an opportunity to provide a "home setting" for dependent and delinquent boys, will open in January on an estate adjoining Pater Park under terms of the Pater Trust. This will accommodate about eight boys at a time under guidance of a resident couple, intended to provide each boy with a year or so of rehabilitation.

"It's something we've been working toward for some time, and I'm rather excited about it," Judge Black asserted.

Efforts "to divert young offenders from the judicial system" include the Youth Aid Department and the Youth Service Bureau, he noted. He explained that under the Youth Aid Department, trained officers of the Hamilton, Middleton and Fairfield police departments and the Butler County Sheriff's staff are authorized "to take care of things as they happen on the street," discussing cases with parents, establishing settlements of the spot, and otherwise attempting to seek correction without court action. The Youth Aid Department, funded under a federal program, was begun last October and enlists help of agencies such as Family Service, Mental Health, YMCA-YWCA, and psychologists; it is concerned with the "unruly child" cases rather than with offenses which would be classified as crime if committed by adults, he said.

"I don't think the rate of juvenile offenses is any greater than it has been over a period of years," Judge Black added. "Our population is greater, so the number of cases we handle is greater. But it remains about 16 delinquents in every thousand school-age youngsters."

Happy New Year!

Now, I don't know what you think, or what you have been told, but it still is not too late to make up a list of New Year's Resolutions.

Some folk seem to think they have to be made before midnight, Dec. 31. That's not true. They actually should be made up New Years Day...that's today.

You should ponder over them...give them lots of thought, and then before tonight...decide which ones you plan to keep. And, then from the time you retire tonight, you should keep them for as long as possible.

Like always, I've toyed with a long list. But, being realistic (and knowing how weak my will power is) I've rejected all but two.

One is, to win the "Battle of the Bulge." I'm sure you know what I mean. Diet, diet, diet and more diet! There's a certain heart specialist in the Golden Triangle who says that's a must for me. And, I must admit, the holidays have caused me trouble.

The second one is...to try and be just a little bit better of a fella in 1973 than I was in 1972.

That, my friends, covers a lot.

I'll try not to offend any of you folk; I'll try not to leave "a mess" on my desk; I'll try to be as good a "neighbor" to everyone as possible.

To those of you that I upset or offended during this last year, I seek your pardon. And, let's all start this year anew, with joy and happiness in our hearts and minds. Bless you, one and all!

IF YOU HAVEN'T gotten your tickets for Rotary Revels for 1973, you better get them fast.

I don't know who's directing this year's event, but he, or she, has already assured himself of making it a hit. I heard yesterday that James Grimm has been cast in the role of Ben Franklin.

I don't care if it is only a walk-on part. I'll tell you, right now, the show will be a success.

Grimm, so help me, will steal the show, even if he only has two or three lines. Just you wait and see! The production is in February and its the musical "1776," I'm told.

Mrs. Edwin Davis, 1583 Brookcrest Drive, sent in these Remember Whens...when soft drinks only came in three kinds, white pop, red pop and root beer?...the horse-drawn wagon from the A & P Co., selling "Our Own Team" and 8 o'clock coffee?...the summer street cars with open sides?...the old Hupmobile Coupe (owned by her husband) which looked like a square box on wheels?...the horse-drawn ice wagons and how we kids would climb on the back step to scoop up ice chips to eat?

"Those were the days of heating stoves, outhouses and washboards, and I'm glad they're gone," dear Mrs. Davish says, in concluding her letter.

AND ANOTHER SWEET LADY, who failed to sign her name, sent me a poem entitled "A Star for Our Daddy," which she wrote back in 1944. Her husband was overseas then and she was home with three kids.

I treasure the poem, but it is too long to publish. She also sent in these Remember Whens:...the sweet smell of goodies when you walked past Weik's Bakery?...the visit to Bokamps Store to buy candy in little dishes with spoons and sugar candy drops on lengths of paper?...and the singing of "The Yanks are coming" during World War One?...and how every high school kid plunked on a ukulele while standing on the front porch or swing?...and the day "Lucky Lindy" flew the Spirit of St. Louis over Hamilton?

LETTERS RECEIVED AND COMMENTS NOTED AND APPRECIATED: Mrs. Luella C. Geyer, Hillandale Nursing Home, she and her late husband, Phil Geyer, operated Geyer's Grocery at 371 Main St., for many years; Shirley and Johnny Glover, 1220 Campbell Ave., who appreciate the New Journal-News; Audrey Barker Williams, 1196 Western Ave., whose dear mother, Mrs. Verna Barker, used to read "Elsie Dinsmore" stories to us for hours; Mrs. Kathy (Campbell) Budde, former Journal-News staffer, who says she's "thriving on being a full-time housewife and mother, and mother-to-be! (Congratulations!!) and sweet little Eva Carter, 16 out Main St. way, who writes in "defense of the Journal-News carriers."

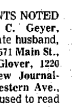

Mrs. Evonne Isaacs, 201 Laurel Ave., called to defend the carriers, also. Her daughter, Barbara, 14, now has the route, and Mrs. Isaacs says, "Remember, these are kids in the sixth grade and on up into high school." She also says "write a story to give them a pat on the back."

As a former carrier-salesman who carried as a sub on Route 55, Starr Hill, I know the feeling of "never being able to find anyone home to collect" and the way many people "take their carriers for granted."

Soooo, let's all remember they are just kids and forgive them their "little" faults. After all, they forgive you adults day in and day out.

Bless, each and every one of you, our 120,000 potential readers, and a Happy New Year!

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By MICKEY COLLIGAN

New Year brings new hopes. New dreams. New spirit. New expectation. And new forecasts. New Year also waves goodbye to the past. Frustrations, failures, resentments, and regrets are behind you. Forget them. New Year is a time to look ahead.

New advancement, new goals, new accomplishment, new successes are possible for every one. But, a sane, sound view is needed. Without it, the proneness of the human mind is only wishful thinking. The sane, sound view reveals none of us lives in this world alone. We can not isolate ourselves from others, even if we try, because we live with and among other people. The sane, sound view should reveal we live in God's world. Not ours, but, His. Living in His world, UNINSULATED from Him and His help, is a sane, sound view that can give us strength and energy to try at least to reach a goal.

With that thought, we wish you a Happy New Year, filled with sane, sound perspectives every day thereafter.
