Whom Do We Serve?

Red Rock Canyon School serves families throughout the United States helping each student overcome their individual issues and find the worth and value in themselves. The clinical program at Red Rock helps them identify their problem behavior and build on their internal strengths. Red Rock Canyon School does not believe in a punitive approach to bring about change. We believe that there is a great child in each of our students; they just need to learn how to correct the thinking errors that have been destructive in their lives.

Red Rock Canyon School helps teens identify and build upon their individual strengths which gives them hope for the future, an opportunity for healing, and provides a catalyst for family unity.
