The Semester Back Program is specifically designed to meet the needs of families and adolescents who are struggling with a variety of difficulties at home and school. For some boys and girls, ages 13 through 18, adolescence can be a time of extraordinary turbulence or trouble. Academic performance and participation in school may be faltering. Their behavior may be at best unpleasant, unsettling, morose, or frighteningly reckless and disruptive of their lives and the lives of other members of their family. The bright promise of their young lives may seem to be fading with each passing day.

These adolescents, the students we work with, may be characterized by some or all of the following terms: angry, defiant, rebellious, deceitful, manipulative, entitled, sad, impulsive, unreasonable, ill-tempered, adrift, isolated, depressed, anxious, loving an=d lovable. They may be failing classes despite their obvious intelligence; they may be isolated and withdrawn despite their charm and warmth. They may have run away or experimented with drugs or alcohol. They may fail to act responsibility or in a manner consistent with their abilities and up bringing. They are headed in an unacceptable direction. We help them and their families correct the drift.

The key to helping students make positive adjustments is the school's unique curriculum and counseling which consists of six tightly integrated components 1) the academic curriculum, 2) intense one-on-one counseling, 3) wilderness adventure, 4) the Village where students learn about community and family, 5) the mountain campus where students live together as a family and 6) the family and parent workshops.

Alldredge provides an opportunity for out of control teens and adolescents to change their behaviors and get back on track. Alldredge facilitates the transition of students from other treatment programs into traditional schools, bringing them up to date academically. Alldredge provides families with the support and emotional relief they will need to be successful during the child's stay with us.
