COURAGE INTEGRITY LEADERSHIP CURIOSITY CONCERN

Statement of Purpose

Each of us is gifted with a unique potential that defines a destiny. A commitment to character development enables us to achieve personal excellence and find fulfillment in life. To paraphrase Martin Luther King, Jr., we strive for a school where the members of our community will be judged not by their inherent talents or native abilities but by the content of their character.

Our primary goal is the personal growth of young men and women. Our experience, however, has taught us that all constituents—students, teachers, and parents—must strive for personal growth in order for Hyde’s students to achieve their best. As we narrow the gap between what we want to foster and how we foster it, we continue to believe that our successes are due more to an adherence to a belief system than to a set curriculum. The cornerstones of that belief system are the Five Words and Five Principles.

The Five Words have adorned the school’s shield since its founding:
COURAGE, INTEGRITY, LEADERSHIP, CURIOSITY, CONCERN.

The Five Principles were adopted by the entire community in 1988:

DESTINY
Each of us is gifted with a unique potential.

HUMILITY
We believe in a power and a purpose beyond ourselves.

CONSCIENCE
We attain our best through character and conscience.

TRUTH
Truth is our primary guide.

BROTHER’S KEEPER
We help others achieve their best.

We value these words and aspire to reflect these principles in our individual and collective endeavors. The respect we accord each other is a direct reflection of this philosophy.
