AFFORDABLE ACADEMY FOR TROUBLED TEENS

Lighting the Way for Teenage Girls to a Future of Hope and Fulfillment

Welcome to New Lifehouse Academy, an affordable, year-round boarding school created specifically for struggling girls ages 14–17. We understand how important it is to find a safe, nurturing place where a troubled teen can heal, grow, and regain her confidence. With one of the nation's strongest sports and recreation programs, New Lifehouse provides a vibrant, structured environment where young women are guided toward lasting personal, academic, and spiritual transformation.

Located at the foothills of the beautiful Ozarks near Grand Lake, our 40-acre campus is surrounded by peaceful wooded hills, trails, and a nearby spring-fed creek, with access to over 900 additional acres of outdoor space. We specifically work with girls who are struggling with behavioral, emotional, or academic challenges, offering an affordable, highly structured residential program built on a foundation of faith, discipline, and personal growth.

Our mission is to empower teenage girls and their families with the tools, structure, and support needed to thrive academically, relationally, and spiritually. Through a thoughtfully crafted program that blends mentorship, education, athletics, recreation, and faith-based guidance, we help girls who once felt lost rediscover their potential. At New Lifehouse Academy, young women grow into confident, self-reliant individuals, equipped with the skills and character to live fulfilling, purpose-driven lives and succeed long after they leave our care.

Our commitment is to excellence in care, honoring the individuality of every student.

IS YOUR DAUGHTER'S LIFE IN A DOWNWARD SPIRAL?

When you begin to see signs that your daughter is heading down a destructive path, it is critical to act quickly. Early intervention—whether through counseling or, when necessary, placement at a structured program like New Lifehouse Academy—can make all the difference between a temporary struggle and a lasting crisis. Waiting too long often closes doors to easier solutions, making more intensive intervention unavoidable. If you are at the point where you know something must change, we are here to help you evaluate the situation and take immediate steps to get your daughter the life-changing support she needs before it is too late.

Should you need help finding teen challenge for teens or schools for troubled teens, please let us know. New Lifehouse Academy is a Christ-centered therapeutic boarding school for troubled teenage girls, designed to help them overcome behavioral challenges through a combination of faith-based mentoring, strong academics, and competitive athletics. More than just a school for troubled teens, New Lifehouse provides a highly structured, supportive environment where troubled girls can rebuild their lives with purpose and accountability. Unlike traditional military schools or boot camps, which often lack individualized care and counseling, New Lifehouse offers both therapeutic support and high-level athletic engagement. Sports play a major role in the program, giving girls the chance to develop discipline, leadership, and teamwork through activities like basketball, weight training, and track. These experiences, combined with daily mentoring and biblical guidance, foster lasting character growth and self-confidence. For families looking for a life-changing program that integrates strong values, personal responsibility, and physical challenge, New Lifehouse Academy offers a proven and transformative path for troubled teens.
