THREE SPRINGS

Wayne County Girls Program, Jessup, GA

Who We Are

If your child has a history of chronic status offenses, misdemeanors and/or nonviolent felony offenses, our Wayne County program may be able to help. This girls-only program was established to serve adjudicated females in Georgia 14-17 years of age who are unable to return to their home and are not ready for independent living.

How We Help

Residents live in small groups of eight under the supervision of highly trained and skilled Youth Care Workers (YCWs). Under the YCWs' constant care, peer group feedback is continuous and group problem solving is given high priority.

Our Wayne County Girls Program incorporates an array of experiential, adventure-based and work-based educational experiences. The experiential activities consist of interactive learning units which take place both in and outside of the classroom. A typical day includes classroom academics, vocational training, life skills, community service projects, social skills training, recreation and a nightly group session. As scheduled, other activities will include adventure trip planning, nature study and projects, vocational work projects and educational field trips.

Outdoor Adventure

Adventure trips like hiking, biking, canoeing and rafting occur on a regular basis. Our groups go through a progressive process beginning with a day trip. Once the group masters the ability and skills needed for a successful trip, they progress to overnight and longer trips.
