Peer Group 69 had their forming day take place on June 9th, 2004. Fourteen official members of the Peer Group “Apex” began a journey along with staff of Hidden Lake Academy hiking up the rigorous trail at Amicalola Falls. The entire group hiked up and down the falls with little trouble! Once we reached the top, we looked over the beautiful waterfall which was very worth the hike. We proceeded back down the trail to a cookout of hamburgers, hotdogs, soda, chips, cookies, and much more.

Next we played a couple of team building games. One game was called the “Blob.” Several students would link together and run as a team to tag other students individually. If that student was tagged, he/she would join the Blob. The game was a lot of fun with a lot of screaming and laughing taking place. The next game was called “Chubby Bunny.” Students would have to put one marshmallow at a time in their mouth and still be able to say “Chubby Bunny.” The student with the most marshmallows in their mouth and still saying “chubby bunny” would win the game. After about four marshmallows, most of our students were out of the game! We then played a silly game which involved whipped cream and cheese balls. One student would cover their face as another student would throw cheese balls at the student’s face. The student who could keep the most cheese balls stuck to their face would win. Many of the students did a great job while licking their lips tasting the sweet whipped cream. The students were not shy with their whipped cream and pasted some staff members as well.

At the end of the day everyone was pretty tired and had their fill of fun. PG69 rode back on the buses counting sheep a lot closer, and officially formed as the newest Peer Group on campus.

Danny Stempkowski writes... Forming day was fun. I enjoyed the good food and getting to know some of the senior Peer Group students who came with us as campus positive role models. Now some are my friends...Overall, Forming Day was the best day at HLA yet!
